

- Blue Grace Logistics kicks off 2009!
- Blue Grace Logistics launches new website!
- Blue Grace hosts first Logistics and Sales Training of 2009!

INSIDE
THIS ISSUE:

- Blue Grace |
kicks off 2009
- Blue Grace | website
- Logistics |
Training 2
- Our Mission | 2

Blue Grace Logistics

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 1

JANUARY, 2009

Blue Grace Logistics kicks off 2009!

(APOLLO BEACH, FL.) Friday, January 2, 2009 – Blue Grace Logistics carries its momentum into 2009 with the further addition of Blue Grace Groups, enhancement of a new website, expansion of partner relations and the first logistics and sales training of the New Year. Continuing to emerge as one of the nation’s most progressive and innovative 3rd Party Logistics Providers, Blue Grace Logistics anticipates a breakthrough year.

Blue Grace most recently began selling aggressively in Tallahassee, Greenville and Atlanta. More Blue Grace groups are expected to carry on that success into the 1st quarter of 2009. Blue Grace’s new website, mybluegrace.com, will make the customer’s shipping experience simple and efficient as they remain the new pioneers in innovation. Blue Grace currently has 13 partnerships live in their Transportation Management System, BlueShip, with 28 more partnerships being established.

www.mybluegrace.com

The Logistics and Sales Training course later in the month is expected to give new Blue Grace Groups the tools they need to expand the Blue Grace footprint throughout the nation.

For information on requesting an account, visit: www.mybluegrace.com.

Blue Grace Logistics launches new website!

(APOLLO BEACH, FL.) Monday, January 12, 2009 – Blue Grace Logistics continues to emerge as one of the most technologically advanced and innovative 3PL’s in the transportation industry, with the launching of their new website. Mybluegrace.com is designed to enhance the customer’s business experience.

Through technical development and straightforward design, Mybluegrace.com is engineered to be a complete one-stop shop for a business’s transportation

Join Our Network!
Blue Grace Myspace
Profile

“Training is paramount at Blue Grace Logistics and is supported on an on-going basis.”

Blue Grace Logistics launches new website!

needs.

Customers can log into their BlueShip accounts to process freight shipments, or BlueShip Parcel for their small parcel needs. Mybluegrace.com makes navigation simple with links for on-line tracking, carrier and customer spotlights, career information, account requests and even a tutorial. Blue Grace continues to reach out to the market place through innovative technologies and has most recently created Facebook and Myspace profiles.

Potential Customers can request quotes and account information immediately at www.mybluegrace.com.

Blue Grace hosts first Logistics and Sales Training of 2009!

(APOLLO BEACH, FL.) Monday, January 19, 2009 – Blue Grace Logistics will kick off 2009 by hosting the first Logistics and Sales Training of 2009 at the corporate offices in Apollo Beach, Florida. Nick Klingensmith, Sales Development Manager, will be leading the class, and will be joined by Magnus Edling, Director of Business Development, and Eric Chambers, Director of Logistics. This will be the first of many classes that will be held throughout the year on logistics and sales training. Training is paramount at Blue Grace Logistics and is supported on an on-going basis. Advanced Logistics, Sales, and Transportation Management courses will follow as well. Blue Grace Logistics Groups and sales reps from all over the country will be in attendance for the weeklong session.

Our Mission

To create an enduring, people centered culture that drives our ambition to become the most progressive and innovative enterprise in the logistics industry while enriching the lives of our employees, customers and vendors